ANNOUNCEMENTS

LECTURA BOCCACCII 1988

Millicent Marcus, University of Texas, will offer a reading of Decameron 1.10 at the American Association of Italian Studies annual meeting, Provo, Utah, April 14-17.

NEWBERRY LIBRARY 1988 SUMMER INSTITUTE IN ITALIAN ARCHIVAL SCIENCES

Once again the Newberry Library in Chicago will offer a six-week summer institute in the archival sciences, from June 27 to August 5, 1988. The institute will be lead by Professor Armando Petrucci, Director of the Institute of Paleography at the University of Rome. With the assistance of Dr. Franca Nardelli, Prof. Petrucci will provide intensive training in the reading, transcribing, and editing of Italian vernacular manuscripts from 1300-1650. In addition he will offer an orientation in the organization of Italian archives, libraries, and manuscript collections.

Stipends of up to $3000 are available through the National Endowment for the Humanities to full-time faculty members and librarians with instructional responsibilities employed in institutions of higher learning in the United States. In accordance with NEH guidelines, institutions of participants receiving NEH awards will be required to pay 10% ($300) of the stipends. Special funds are also available to faculty, research scholars, and advanced graduate students at universities affiliated with the Newberry Library Center for Renaissance Studies or the Folger Institute.

The course will be conducted in Italian. The application deadline is March 1, 1988. For information and application forms, contact the Center for Renaissance Studies, The Newberry Library, 60 West Walton Street, Chicago, IL 60610; phone 312-943-9090.

CALL FOR PAPERS

The 30th annual meeting of the MMLA will take place in St. Louis, November 3-5, 1988. Charles Ross is organizing a section on Boccaccio. If you are interested in participating, please contact him: Heavilon Hall--English, Purdue University, West Lafayette, IN 47907.

GARLAND PUBLISHING

Ever the source of good titles in medieval studies, Garland Publishing lists Donald Cheney's English translation of the Filocolo (with the collaboration of Thomas Bergin), as well as Robert apRoberts's and Anna Bruni Seldis's translation of the Filostrato. The Filostrato also contains the Italian text as edited by Vincenzo Pernicone. Boccaccio's Life of Dante, edited and translated by Vincenzo Bollettino, will appear soon. As announced in the Fall 1986 newsletter, Garland has published Janet Smarr's translation of the Eclogues, with facing Latin text.
