LECTURAE BOCCACCII

The full schedule of the Lecturae Boccaccii for Day 2 of the Decameron is now in place, and we are happy to announce it to you here. Look for the upcoming Lecturae at the following conferences (an asterisk denotes a Lectura that has already been given):

2.1	Kevin Brownlee, Univ. of Pennsylvania	AATI, Chicago, 1992
2.2	Rebecca West, Univ. of Chicago	AAIS, Chapel Hill, 1992
2.3*	David Wallace, Univ. of Minnesota	MLA, Chicago, 1990
2.4	H. Wayne Storey, Fordham Univ.	AATI, Chicago, 1992
2.5*	Christopher Kleinhenz, Univ. of Wisconsin	Kalamazoo, 1991
2.6*	Michael Sherberg, Washington Univ.	AAIS, Charlottesville, 1990
2.7	Joan Ferrante, Columbia Univ.	MLA, New York, 1992
2.8	Susan Noakes, Univ. of Minnesota	MLA, San Francisco, 1991
2.9	Elissa Weaver, Univ. of Chicago	Kalamazoo, 1992
2.10	Teodolinda Barolini, New York Univ.	MLA, 1992, New York

Please note that, in order to keep to our plan to complete the Day 2 Lecturae in a three-year cycle, we have scheduled two readings for the 1992 MLA in New York. As a result, we will not be soliciting papers for our annual meeting section, as has been traditional. We will return to the regular annual meeting format in 1993.

KIRKHAM RE-ELECTED

Congratulations to Victoria Kirkham, who was recently re-elected to a two-year term as president of the ABA.

BOCCACCIO AT THE AATI

Participants delivered three papers on Boccaccio at the annual conference of the American Association of Teachers of Italian, held in Washington, DC from November 23 to 25:

"The Play of Genre and Voicing in Boccaccio's Corbaccio," Regina Psaki, Univ. of Oregon

"Calandrino: Desire in the Decameron," Jill Claretta Robbins, New York Univ.

"The Feminine in Boccaccio and His Epigoni," Itala T. C. Rutter, Wheaton College

MEMBERS REPORT ACTIVITIES

Anthony K. Cassell (Univ. of Illinois, Urbana-Champaign) is at work on a new edition of his translation of the Corbaccio, in a paperback format suitable for the classroom. It will be published by Medieval and Renaissance Texts and Studies (Binghamton, NY). His article, "Boccaccio's Caccia di Diana: Horizon of Expectation," which offers a Jaussian reading of the work, is forthcoming in Italian Culture.

Pier Massimo Forni's study, Forme complesse nel "Decameron," is due out from Olschki in February 1992.

Itala T. C. Rutter is preparing an essay on "The Feminine in Boccaccio and His Epigoni," and spoke on "The Concept of Community in the Decameron: From 'matta bestialità' to 'fraternal dismestichezza,'" at the Kalamazzo conference in May.

UPDATE UPCOMING

Our spring newsletter will include a detailed update on the University of Pennsylvania Boccaccio Project, including a description of the methodology for digitizing images. Already several hundred images have been digitized into the Project's computer system.

DUES REMINDER

A hearty thanks to all members who have recently paid their dues. Those of you who have not yet paid ($5 regular member/$15 sustaining member): please send your check or money order (Canadian members: US funds, please), together with your name and mailing address. We've provided our convenient form, as always.

Now that the ABA sponsors the Lecturae Boccaccii, followed by receptions for the participants, our expenses have increased significantly. We ask those of you who can to support our projects financially by becoming sustaining members of the Association.
