NEW PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

It was not without some hesitation that I accepted the post of President of our association following the four years of Elissa Weaver's most effective leadership.

On behalf of all members I express to her our gratitude for all the time and energy she has devoted to the Association. I only hope to be able to maintain during the next two years, the momentum set by her. In any case it is reassuring for all of us to know that she will continue to take care of the Lecturae Boccaccii, at least up to the end of the First Day.

Our association is fortunate in being able to count on so many distinguished American Boccaccio scholars. Because of their presence among us, we have been able to enlist the generous help of Vittore Branca. To his cooperation with American scholars we owe the Boccaccio Visualizzato project, and I expect to announce shortly another initiative due to a similar cooperation.

Pamela Stewart, McGill U., President, ABA

MODERN LANGUAGE ASSOCIATION ANNUAL MEETING
Chicago, 27-30 December 1985

MINUTES OF THE ANNUAL MEETING OF THE ABA:

The 1985 Meeting of the American Boccaccio Association was called to order on December 29th, at 10:30 in the Chicago Marriott Hotel by the president, Elissa Weaver. The business began with the approval of the minutes of the 1985 meeting, which were published in the Spring 1985 ABA Newsletter. In the absence of the Secretary-treasurer the president reported an approximate balance of $400.

The on-going Lectura Boccaccii series was the principal item of business. It was announced with regret that the Lectura, scheduled in conjunction with the Chicago MLA Convention and which was to have been given by Marga Cottino-Jones of UCLA, had been cancelled since Professor Cottino-Jones was in Italy and unable to return for the occasion. The next two lecturae were announced: Michelangelo Picone, McGill U., Decameron I,7, AAIS, Toronto, April 11, 1986 and Ronald Martinez, U. of Minnesota, Decameron I,4, International Congress on Medieval Studies, Kalamazoo, May 10, 1986. The president announced that she had begun to discuss the publication of the series with the University of Chicago Press, but that she could go no further with the discussions until she had more texts to show them. At present only the lecturae of Professors Hollander and Fido have been submitted.

The important new business was the announcement of the election of Pamela Stewart of McGill University to the office of president of the ABA for a two-year term beginning immediately following the annual meeting. The retiring president thanked the members of the ABA for the help they had given her during her two terms and especially for their contributions to the formulation of new ABA programs and their active and enthusiastic participation in the regular activities of the association.

It was suggested that the ABA By-Laws will need some revising, given changes that have taken place in the organization in recent years. There was no discussion of this matter during the meeting, but several members made suggestions to the president afterward; these suggestions would be passed on to the new President.

The calls for papers (Chicago MMLA and New York MLA), which had been published in the Fall 1985 Newsletter, were repeated. We thanked the Dante Society for inviting the ABA to their reception. Another such joint party will be considered for the New York MLA Convention. The president announced a dinner party for all ABA members and friends at her home that evening and the business meeting was adjourned.

Following the business meeting the scheduled program was held:

1. "Boccaccio, Dioneo, and matta bestialità," Michael Sherberg, Washington Univ.
2. "Reflections on the 'Arabic' World: Boccaccio's Ninth Stories," Victoria Kirkham and María Menocal, Univ. of Pennsylvania
3. "Boccaccio's Theory of the Volgare," Angelo Mazzocco, Mt. Holyoke Coll. (The title of this paper was changed to "Dante and Boccaccio on the Volgare")

Minutes taken in the absence of the Secretary-treasurer and submitted by Elissa Weaver.

TREASURER'S UPDATE

As of April 25, 1986 we have $380.29 in the ABA treasury.
